MINOR LOCAL EVENTS.

The Smaller Happenings of a Day in and

About the City.

Nearly one hundred District cases were tried in the police court yesterday.

Mr. John C. Fisher, Jr., was yesterday admitted to the bar of this District.

Mr. Christopher Dickson, of South Washington, has bought house No. 1707, corner of Massachusetts and E Street, for $10,500.

Henry P. Davis and Horatio Beach were yesterday fined $10 each in the police court for violating the new fishing law.

The Athletic Society, a popular East Washington organization, will give their second communion ball at McCall's Hall this evening.

The remains of the late James Edwin Spear will be taken this afternoon at 2 o'clock, to Massachusetts for interment at his birthplace.

Last night one of the watchmen in the navy yard discovered a fire in the engine room, which was extinguished in a short time with small damage.

A warrant was sworn out yesterday for the arrest of W. Calvin Chase, editor of the Bro, for an alleged assault on one of his printers named

Charles E. Conroy.

The case of Annie Smith, a colored woman, charged with larceny of laundry goods from

Mr. J. M. Smith, near Bladensburg, is to be tried in the police court yesterday until to-day.

A pleasant entertainment was given last evening by the Concordia Young People's Association at Abner's Hall, which was well attended by the members and friends of this organization.

The Plymouth Congregational Church, which until lately has been worshipping at Calvary

Hall, on Eleventh street, has moved, and now worships with the Lincoln Memorial Episcopal Church, corner of Eleventh and E streets.

The police are now engaged in making out a list of water and gas bills which protrude above the level of the sidewalk, with a view of having them cut to the proper level by the engine department. There are about 5,000 of them in the city.

James Sutton Magee died Sunday night after a long illness at his residence on Patuxent

South Washington, aged 82 years. Mr. Magee was born in Maryland, near Bladensburg. He moved to Washington about fifty years ago.

He leaves a large family of children and grandchildren.

THE VACANT BENCH.

Two New Candidates for Judge Wy-the's Place.

When the President looked through his mail yesterday morning he took from a big square envelope a sheet of foolscap paper neatly ruled. When he opened it he read the following:

Mr. President, I herewith make application for appointment as associate justice of the supreme court of the District of Columbia, in the stead of the Hon. Andrew W. M. Smith, who has resigned his office. I have practiced law in the said District for more than twenty years, and have been a member of the bar of the District for more than twenty years. I am well known to the judges and the leading members of the bar for my opinion as to my integrity and ability. I remain your obedient servant.

JOHN J. JOHNSON.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 25, 1885.

When he finished reading the letter he went to his reception room and received a delegation of District lawyers, consisting of John S. Egan, Samuel M. Jones, W.

A. Gordon, T. A. Lamb, and Henry

Wise. The delegation presented the name of Mr. John Johnson for the vacant judgeship. Mr. Johnson's name was not on the list of candidates submitted by the President's committee.

The President's committee, however, was not in a position to refuse the recommendation of the District lawyers.

A COOLING APPARATUS FOR 10 CENTS

The Palais Royal's new Fan stock embraces a variety which commences at ten cents and finishes at one hundred dollars. Parchment Fans, Silk Fans, Satin Fans, Gauze Fans, Lace Fans, Feather Fans; Fans Painted, or Fans Plain Fans with Cedar Wood, Russia Leather, Ivory, Pearl, or Tortoise Shell Sticks. Unquestionably the largest stock, the greatest variety and the lowest prices in the United States.

We cannot possibly describe here one-hundredth part of the new stock—How can we?—for the new lots comprise over 5,000 Fans, and nearly all different. The prices are
